DETAILED ACTION

Notice to Applicant

1. This communication is in response to the Amendment filed on 8/14/07. Claims 1, 15- 17 have been amended. Claims 29-31 have been cancelled. Claims 1-28 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fitzgerald (6,260,049) in view of Pensky et al (5,513,101) and further in view of Schulz (5,818,901), for substantially the same reasons given in the previous Office Action, and incorporated herein. Further reasons are presented hereinbelow.

(A) Claims 1, 15-17 have been amended to recite "being performed on the patient". However, this changes does not affect the scope and the breadth of these claims as previously presented. Therefore, the claims are rejected for the same reasons given in prior Office Action, and incorporated herein.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed on 8/14/07 with respect to claims 1-28 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

(A) At pages 9-11 of the response filed on 8/14/07, Applicant argues the followings:

(i) Fitzgerald does not teach or disclose the elements of the Applicant's invention because Fitzgerald uses a folder interface that requires the "scanning" of the patient's original manual master folder contents.

(ii) Schulz is not a relevant art.

(iii) Claims 1-28 as amended, are patentable over Fitzgerald, Pinsky and Schulz either alone or in combination and the rejections under 35 U.S.C 103 (a) should be withdrawn.

(B) With respect to Applicant's first argument, Examiner respectfully submitted that He relied upon the clear teaching of Fitzgerald for such a feature(See Fig.17; Col.20, lines 1-17). Therefore, Applicant's argument is not persuasive and the rejection is hereby sustained.

(C) In response to Applicant's second argument that is nonanalogous art, it has been held that a prior art reference must either be in the field of applicant's endeavor or, if not, then be reasonably pertinent to the particular problem with which the Applicant was concerned, in order to be relied upon as a basis for rejection of the claimed invention.

See In re Oetiker, 977 F.2d 1443, 24 USPQ2d 1443 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, the primary reference, Fitzgerald is directed to a medical file folder, for example, the content information will advantageously include the patient's visit history, disease, and other information, and the secondary reference, Pinsky, is drawn to a Radiology Healthcare Network for providing generalist, specialty, and sub-specialty, timely medical interpretations of radiological images on a national (e.g., across the U.S.) and regional basis. The images can include images by conventional x-ray technology, computed radiography, magnetic resonance imaging (MRI), computed tomography (CT), ultrasound imaging, nuclear medicine, and mammography equipment. The invention includes the acquisition of these images to digital format, the routing of these converted images, the interpretation of these routed images, and the routing of the interpretations back to the originating facility. However, Schulz is reasonably pertinent to the particular problem with which Applicant was concerned because it allows X-ray exposures of a patient to simultaneously produced while obtaining an MR image, with the subject on a single patient support for producing both the X-ray exposure and the MR image and all of these references are in the same field of endeavor.

(D) With respect to Applicant's third argument, Examiner respectfully submitted that obviousness is determined on the basis of the evidence as a whole and the relative persuasiveness of the arguments. See In re Oetiker, 977 F.2d 1443, 1445, 24 USPQ2d 1443, 1444 (Fed. Cir. 1992); In re Hedges, 783 F.2d 1038, 1039, 228 USPQ 685,686 (Fed. Cir. 1992); In re Piasecki, 745 F.2d 1468, 1472, 223 USPQ 785,788 (Fed. Cir. 1984); and In re Rinehart, 531 F.2d 1048, 1052, 189 USPQ 143,147 (CCPA 1976).

Using this standard, the Examiner respectfully submits that he has at least satisfied the burden of presenting a prima facie case of obviousness, since he has presented evidence of corresponding claim elements in the prior art and has expressly articulated the combinations and the motivations for combinations that fairly suggest Applicant's claimed invention.

Rather, Applicant does not point to any specific distinction(s) between the features disclosed in the references and the features that are presently claimed. In particular, 37 CFR 1.111(b) states, "A general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the reference does not comply with the requirements of this section." Applicant has failed to specifically point out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the applied references. Also, arguments or conclusions of Attorney cannot take the place of evidence. In re Cole, 51 CCPA 919, 326 F.2d 769, 140 USPQ 230 (1964); In re Schulze, 52 CCPA 1422, 346 F.2d 600, 145 USPQ 716 (1965); Mertizner v. Mindick, 549 F.2d 775, 193 USPQ 17 (CCPA 1977).

In addition, the Examiner recognizes that references cannot be arbitrarily altered or modified and that there must be some reason why one skilled in the art would be motivated to make the proposed modifications. However, although the Examiner agrees that the motivation or suggestion to make modifications must be articulated, it is respectfully contended that there is no requirement that the motivation to make modifications must be expressly articulated within the references themselves.

Art Unit: 3627

References are evaluated by what they suggest to one versed in the art, rather than by their specific disclosures, In re Bozek, 163 USPQ 545 (CCPA 1969).

The Examiner is concerned that Applicant apparently ignores the mandate of the numerous court decisions supporting the position given above. The issue of obviousness is not determined by what the references expressly state but by what they would reasonably suggest to one of ordinary skill in the art, as supported by decisions in In re DeLisle 406 Fed 1326, 160 USPQ 806; In re Kell, Terry and Davies 208 USPQ 871; and In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 1074, 5 USPQ 2d 1596, 1598 (Fed. Cir. 1988) (citing In re Lalu, 747 F.2d 703, 705, 223 USPQ 1257, 1258 (Fed. Cir. 1988)). Further, it was determined in In re Lamberti et al., 192 USPQ 278 (CCPA) that:

- (i) obviousness does not require absolute predictability;
- (ii) non-preferred embodiments of prior art must also be considered; and
- (iii) the question is not express teaching of references, but what they would suggest. Therefore, Applicant's argument is not persuasive and the rejection is hereby sustained.

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
